We live in a world which is constantly changing; at times we find our very substance threatened by technological advances. Our culture is termed scientific and sometimes inhumanistic; but there is hope. For even as these socializing changes occur, we find more and more emphasis being placed on individualism; not people living for themselves, but people dedicated to help each other, in their own way. We cannot become subjected to Darwin's theory of "The Survival of the Fittest"; we must adapt or we will never live our lives to the fullest extent. Although it appears as a time of turmoil, it is merely a period of Transition; and all hope lies in us.

APATHY STRIKES BACK"

... what is all this stuff about helping out, being involved, being concerned? How does what I do or what I refuse to do really matter? I came to college to become educated, that is, to learn, and the best way to learn is to listen to everything my teachers say, write it down, and memorize it. That is the best way to get a 4.0 which in itself is the intellectual accomplishment. I don't have any time to run to concerts, any kind of athletic contests, or any fancy club meetings.

What value is there in human encounter? We can't learn anything from people, exception made only for those lecturers. I can learn all I need by reading books, and the rest I can learn by looking inside myself. I don't need a student newspaper, a coach club or any of those movies shown on campus. All these are a waste of my time which is precious, which is so precious to me. Why do I think this way? The answer is quite simple: [illegible] people are [illegible], boring [illegible]. I would prefer to [illegible]

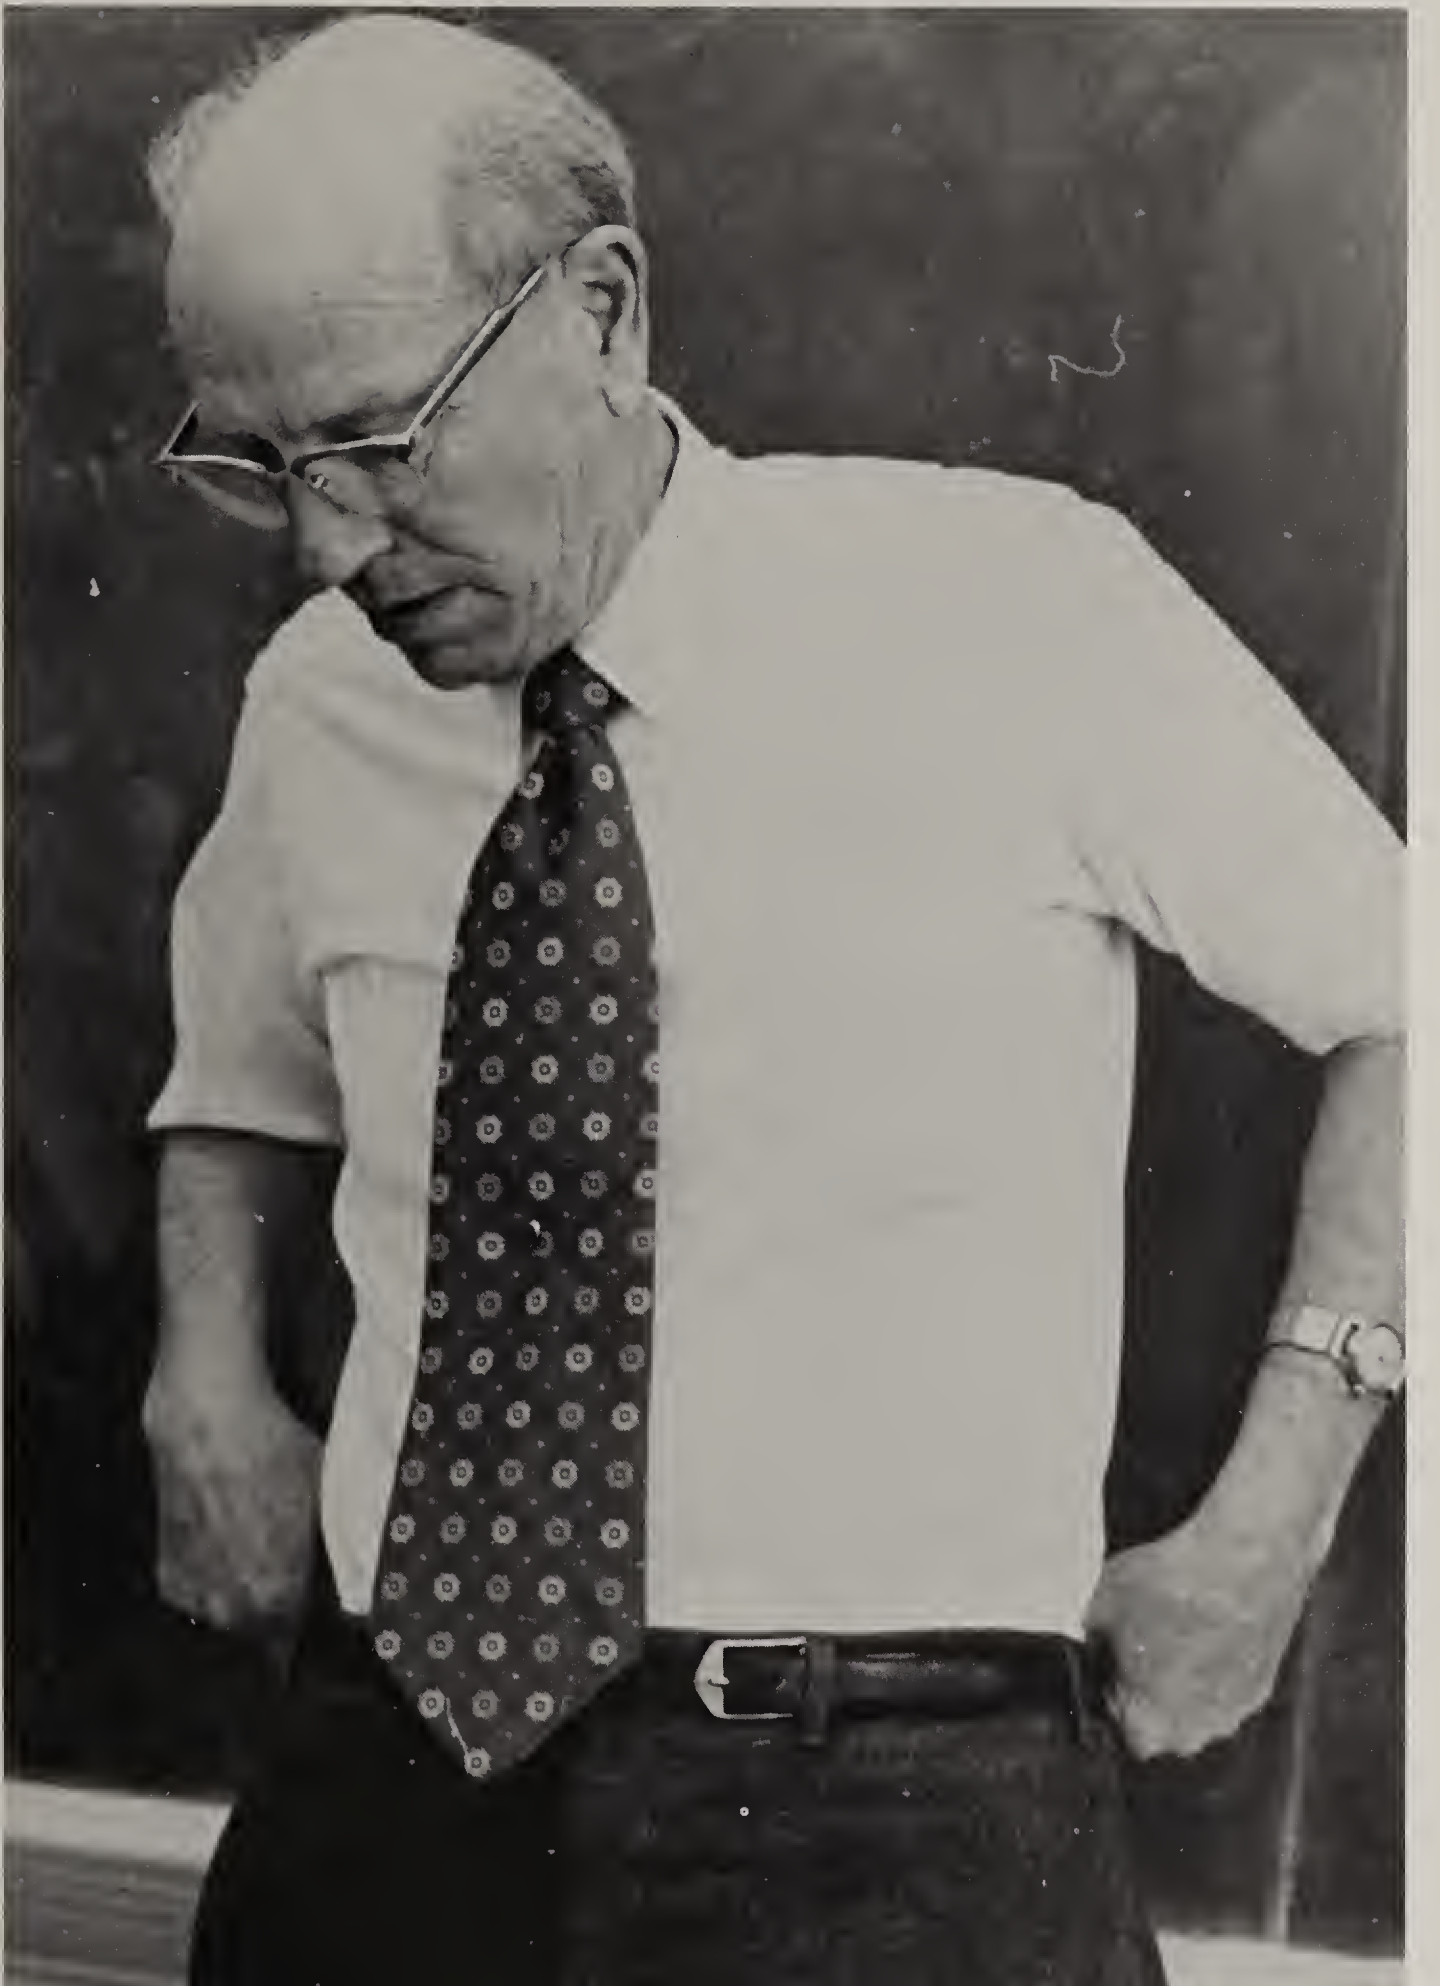
IFC Unifies Greeks



Advisors Provide Guidance

In recognition of his outstanding contribution to the Greek System at Tri-State College, the IFC Scholarship fund has been named the Harry L. McGurk Scholarship Fund. It is a small tribute to a man who has done much not only for the Greeks but also for the students of Tri-State.

Soccer Team Posts Best Season Ever

The Tri-State College soccer team compiled its best record ever in the 1971 season under the direction of first-year coach, Dan Furlan, and made its first appearance in the NAIA District 21 playoffs.

The Trojans finished the regular season with six victories and three defeats winning six straight and then losing three in a row. They stood 4-2 in the Mid-Central Conference and claimed third place, behind champion Goshen and runner-up Grace.

Tri-State's scoring was maintained by Mike Paleocrasses, with freshman, Emilio Valdez following a close second. Goalie, Dave Hale, provided 52 saves during his final season with the team.

Tennis Team Posts 6-2 Record. . .

The Tri-State College tennis team ended its season by posting a record of five victories and only one defeat in Mid-Central Conference dual matches.

The Trojans placed second behind Goshen in the MCC tournament and were second to the Maple Leafs in the final conference standings. They stood 6-2 for the entire season.

Members of the tennis team were: Sergio Borrero, Nuri Hamamcioglu, Steve King, Ken Linger, Bob Smith, Mike Steffan, Hal Stilson, and Tom Turici.

The team was coached by Dr. Eric Isenhoff.

Cross Country Comes to Tri-State

A team of freshmen and sophomores and a new coach revived cross-country running as a sport at Tri-State College this fall and defeated eight opponents while losing to six.

The Trojans were runner-up in both the four-team Mid-Central Conference meet and the six-team Concordia Invitational at Ann Arbor, Mich., and they won two of six dual meets.

Young Team Looks Toward Future

No. 1, Again

Once again Mark Peterman coached the Trojans to another MCC Championship. It was not an outstanding year as the Trojans ran up a regular season record of 17-10 and an 11-1 MCC slate, losing only to Grace. The MCC Championship was enough to earn the team their fifth District 21 Playoff bid. Playing at home in the first round, the Trojans came from behind to defeat Indiana Central, 78-75. Two nights later a rematch of the finalist of the preceeding year came about at Earlham as the Trojans met the host team. No Tri-State team has ever played better than the 1971-72 team did at Earlham. In Kansas, the Trojans came up against their first seven footer of the year, and although playing the game well, came away with a 78-61 set back to St. Thomas of Minn. It took nearly a whole season to put it all together, but the 1971-72 team did it and they reigned State Champions.

Golfers Take MCC

The Tri-State golf team wound up the season in a familiar pattern, winning the Mid-Central Conference champion-and placing third in the NAIA District 21 tournament. Doug Booth and Peter Kempf made the NAIA team, and they as well as Jeff Jackson, Dave Rowe and Greg Berry were named to the All Mid-Central Conference team. Pete Kempf, a junior from Auburn, finished the season with an average of 75.7 and regained the team medalist honor that he had held as a freshman. The team was coached by Bill San Giacomo.

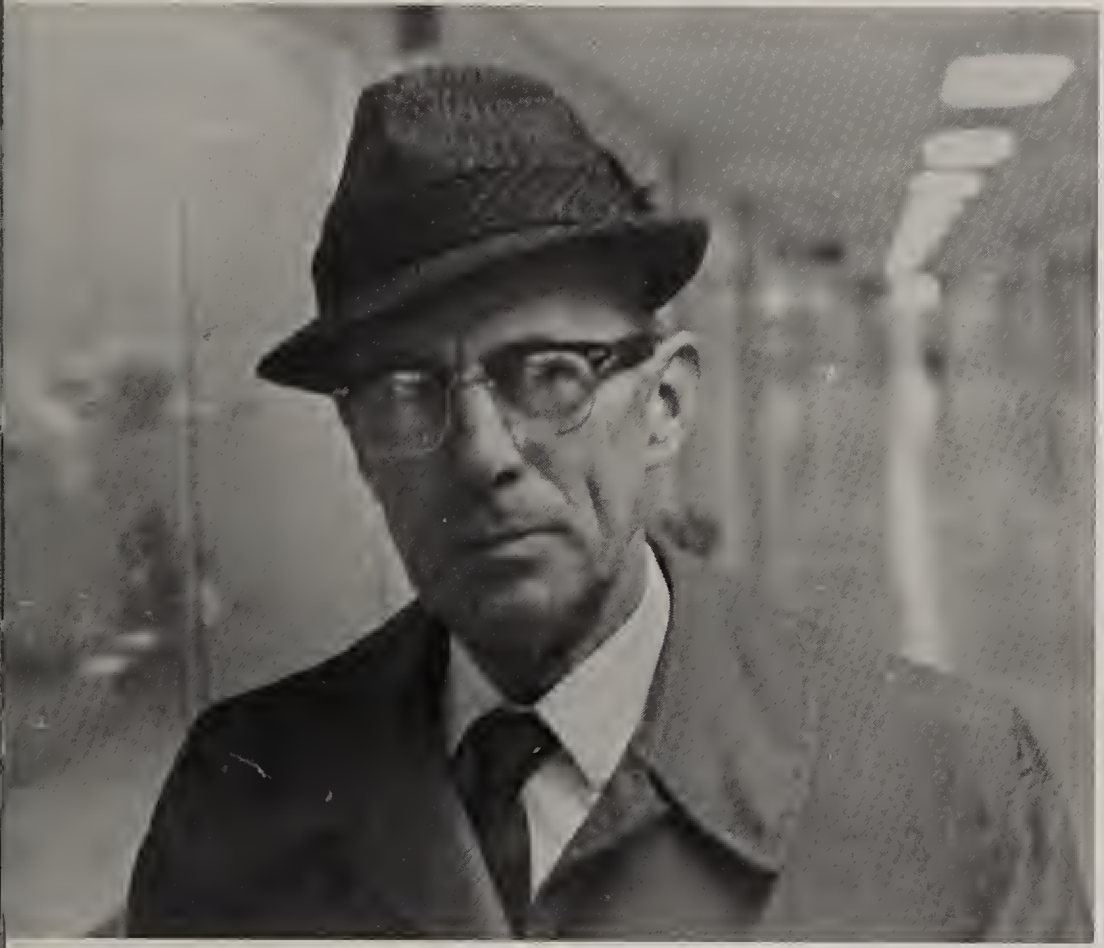
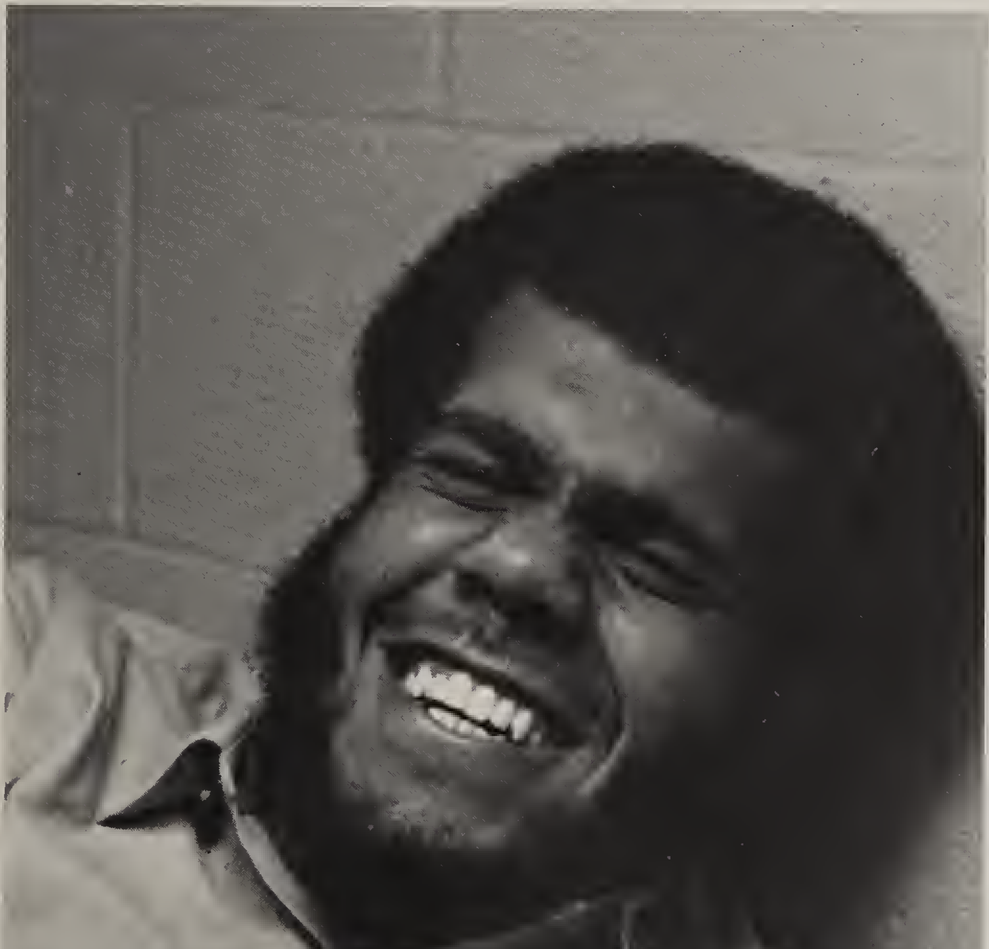
Lucy Emerson, Dr. Radcliffe Retire After Years of Service to Tri-State College

Mrs. Lucy Emerson and Dr. Glenn Radcliffe retired in 1971 after serving Tri-State College for 21 and 36 years respectively. Mrs. Emerson came to Tri-State in 1950 and has served in many positions with the college. These positions include news service director and special assistant to the president. Dr. Radcliffe came to Tri-State in 1928 as a student and returned in 1936 as an instructor. Since that time he has served as Secretary-Treasurer, Academic Vice-President, Director of Admissions, and Alumni Director. Both Mrs. Emerson and Dr. Radcliffe have contributed a great deal to Tri-State and its students.



SMILE
Jesus Loves You



The 1971-72 school year is over. It is history now and all that remains is what we hold in our minds as memories. These memories will be different for all of us; good and bad memories, happy and sad memories, memories of success and of failure. We all share a common bond in these memories, however, in that we will all remember this year as an important part of our lives.

Many things have happened to each of us during this year. We have faced new experiences and new challenges. We have met many people and made new friends. We have opened our minds to new ideas and shared our own with others. At times we have challenged these ideas and have worked together to form new ones. We have all undergone a transition to some degree, and through us Tri-State College has undergone an even greater transition.
